

THEO 598 - Thesis

Teacher	Dr. D. Augustine
Semester	Spring	Duration	36 Weeks
Frequency	Every year
Credits	20 ECTS	Workload	600 Hours
Module format	Directed Study
Applicability	This Module is required and is the culmination of Master studies; this will enable the student to incorporate material learned in all previous modules. It also provides the possibility of further study at the doctoral level.
Course structure	See module and courses
Contact time	40 Hours	Self-Study	560 Hours
Participation requirement	In consultation with the Director of the program, the student must select a primary reader for the thesis from the faculty of the program BEFORE s/he enrolls in the thesis writing course.

Evaluation	Evaluation	Hours	Weight
	Phase 1	250	30%
	Participation on Moodle	60	10%
	Preparatory Reading	100	10%
	Proposal	45	5%
	Bibliography	45	5%
	Phase 2	300	45%
	Development of the thesis	150	25%
	1st Rough Draft	120	15%
	Corrections	30	5%
	Phase 3	50	25%
	Final Submission	50	25%
	Total	600	100%
Content of the Module	This course is designed for students to conclude their graduate program in theological studies by writing a thesis that provides evidence of the ability to do independent research and compile it in the form required by the faculty of graduate studies in Pentecostal-Charismatic Theology.

Learning Objectives

A. General Learning Objectives

This course seeks to:

- To foster the continued development of research and writing skills in the area of biblical and theological studies.
- To contribute to the body of biblical and theological knowledge and literature.
- To assist the student in developing a personal hermeneutical and exegetical position to be used in acquiring a comprehensive understanding of Old and New Testament content.
- To develop an understanding of the philosophical foundations for theological reflection.
- To prepare the student for the teaching enterprise, whether in the educational ministry of the church or in the context of the academy at large.
- To prepare the student to engage in more advanced degrees, including doctoral studies.
- To integrate faith and learning in such a way as to develop the individual in mind and spirit in order to enhance the students own spiritual development and also that of the body of Christ.

B. Specific Behavioral Objectives

As a result of the activities and study in this course, the student should be able to:

- Analyze biblical and theological writings at a level commensurate with other graduate students in religion programs.
- Produce written work that portrays a knowledge of primary and secondary literature in the discipline.
- Compare and contrast the various hermeneutical options for biblical exegesis.
- Demonstrate an understanding of the philosophical foundations for biblical and theological reflection.
- Provide evidence of analytical and critical skills which are prerequisites to further graduate studies in the bible or theology.
- Demonstrate a rudimentary capacity for a specified language for biblical or theological research where required (primarily Greek, Hebrew, or German).
- Integrate Pentecostal faith and experience with doctrinal reflection.
- Articulate the thought of contemporary theologians.

Outline	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • January: In conversation with the chosen reader, the student will prepare a formal thesis proposal to be submitted to the MABTS Committee for its consideration. This proposal must contain: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> I. a succinct thesis statement; II. a precise statement of the problem the thesis will tackle; III. an outline detailing the structure of the thesis argumentation; After the faculty reader has agreed to the proposal, s/he will present the formal thesis proposal to the MABTS Committee, who will approve the proposal as is or approve with the required emendation. Once the proposal has been approved by the MAPCT committee the student must enroll in the thesis writing course. • February: An outline bibliography that must have a minimum of 35 pertinent primary and secondary sources for a biblical/theological thesis. • March: The student will write his/her thesis under the direction of the faculty reader, and will submit a completed chapter directly to that reader, who will evaluate it and return it with suggestions and corrections. • April: The thesis rough draft should be submitted and the reader will outline corrections and make suggestions for improvement. • May: A final version of your complete thesis must be submitted to the tutor by May 31st. After the thesis has been passed by the tutor a faculty reader will also grade it. • June: By June 30th the student will complete any remaining edits/corrections and submit two bound copies to ETS, with an electronic copy sent to Lee.
Examination	See Evaluation
Core Literature	Textbook: Turabian, Kate L. A Manual for Writers of Term Papers, Theses, and Dissertations, sixth ed. Revised by John Grossman and Alice Bennett. London: The University of Chicago Press, Ltd., 1996. Reading List: Oliver, Paul. Writing your Thesis, 3rd Ed. Newcastle upon Tyne: Sage, 2013. Paltridge, Brian, Sue Starfield. Thesis and Dissertation Writing in a Second Language: A Handbook for Supervisors, London: Routledge, 2007. Single, Peg Boyle. Demystifying Dissertation Writing: A Streamlined Process from Choice of Topic to Final Text. Sterling, VA: Stylus Publishing, LLC, 2011.
Other information

Revision #5

Created 13 January 2023 11:21:43 by Otniel Pesel

Updated 10 May 2023 08:27:12 by Anneke Reinecker